

Sample ElectroMagnetic Review

Example: ED and Cancer patient

Energy Review

Overall:

The energetic analysis shows that, overall, the patient is the “salt of the earth”. He is a solid, hard-working, jovial and forthright person with the following imbalances in various Energy Centers (EC) with related physical impact.

- Patient places a great deal of time on thoughts pertaining to EC1 (located in the area of the genitals), including thoughts of survival and sexual performance.
- These thoughts and some negative side effects from his exposure to radiation in a prior episode of prostate cancers, has caused patient to experience his “grounding” to the earth at EC1 instead of his feet and legs.
- As a result, the field lines that normally run from the feet to the top of the head, - the planetary frequencies, are foreshortened and run instead from the genitals to the top of the head.
- The foreshortened field lines at EC1 appear sharp and much ‘cross-wiring’ and confusion in the connection of the field lines is noted.
- Since the planetary energies are of a much higher frequency, this foreshortening causes immense heat to gather at EC1. This white hot planetary energy located in the area of EC1 denatures tissues and organs in the surrounding areas including the:
 - Prostate (EC1)
 - Bladder (EC2)
 - Kidneys (EC3)
 - Stomach (EC3)
 - Heart (EC4)
- The heat compacted in thee area caused the prostate cancer to form in previous years and may cause it to reoccur.
- The heat at EC4 is now causing problems with the electrical functioning of the heart and a malfunction and is causing the centers of the Heart Circuit to harden and slow their function. This will show itself as corrosion of the vessels of the cardiovascular system and symptoms of high blood pressure.
 - The feet and legs are the main conduits for the entry and exit of planetary energies that heal the human body.
- To work specifically on matters of sexual dysfunction, Patient will need to work in cooperation with his partner to restore magnetic attraction through the use of Sound Therapy

- The heat at EC1 has caused the earth element associated with EC1 to migrate upward toward EC4. The elements of water, fire and air are normally found at ECs 2 through 4 have been overtaken by the earth element. The earth elements have ‘swamped’ the functioning of the endocrine system.
- This overtaking of the earth element was caused by an experience in early childhood associated with the death of his mother and her burial. He believed or feared that she had been buried alive. From this experience, Patient has created a very powerful fear of being buried alive within himself and his own fear of being buried alive
 - The symptoms arising from the overtaking of the earth element includes a squelching of the emotions
 - Fleeting and powerful thoughts focusing on sex and death that seem ‘crazy’ or ‘fantastic’. Some of the medications he is taking is amplifying these types of thoughts.
 - An ongoing sense that something is ‘growing inside of him’ that he is not sure if it is ‘good’ or ‘bad’
 - He is looking for solutions, but does not have a grasp on any solutions, it’s a vacuum around him in terms of finding helpful things.
 - Patient was a boisterous, yet fear-filled and lonely in childhood with parents who were absent and. He has not yet recovered from this experience.

Protocol

Overall:

We believe that the patient should be brought to calm and a cool temperature through meditation, massage, yoga, dietary changes and other proactive methodologies to restore his energy system and, therefore, his physical health.

Sound Therapy:

Our evaluation shows that the most effective and comprehensive treatment form for Patient is SGAF’s Sound Therapy. We recommend the following:

- To detoxify the system, sounds of portions of the magnetic field will be needed.
- To eradicate the memory of prostate cancer, sounds of EC1 and all individual petals will be needed.
- To ‘unbury the mother’, sounds of the Heart Circuit will be needed to heal and balance the cardiovascular system.
- To remove and balance the earth element, sounds of the Body Circuit will be needed, particularly the petals of EC3 and their associated chemicals (these chemicals should be incorporated into diet as well).
- To restore the field lines to their proper position, sounds of the Planetary Circuit will be needed.
- To restore the glandular functioning, he will need the sounds of the endocrine system.
- To restore sexual desire and performance, sounds of equal and opposite power associated with the male and female will need to be administered to each partner. This phase should come much later in the timing of the overall treatment.

Energy Sessions:

Patient will need a few energy sessions to bring calm to system, help restore the field lines and to remove and rebalance the earth element within.

- then work to repair tissues of kidneys bladder prostate
- he'll need all chemicals of the 3rd center
- he'll need endocrine support and all chemicals associated with 3rd
- his endocrine system is 'swamped'
- his ED condition is really about the father burying the mother alive

Food: (phased approach)

- begin treatment with a concord grape juice fast followed by a cooling diet
- avoid all meat products
- diet for removal of radiation toxins including juices of particular vegetables
- removal of toxic metals
- taper down any and various hormonal treatments like Viagra and/or steroids of any kind

SGAF Ayurvedic Oil Treatment:

- Shirodhara and other forms of ayurvedic massage to detoxify the system, bring him to a sense of calm quickly and to quicken the pace of his overall treatment program.

Relaxation and Meditation:

- Meditation and yoga to help restore the balance of the mind and body
- Emotional Freedom Technique and other talk therapies to:
 - Clear the emotions associated with the passing and burial of the mother at such a young age.
 - Feelings of abandonment
 - Fear of cancer returning (the desire to restore sexual functioning and vitality is to cover the fear of the cancer returning)
